

Grey eyes of yesterday

Through the pages old and torn
Secrets whispered soft and worn
Memories that lived in gray
Eyes like skies on cloudy day

Gray eyes of yesterday
Gone but here in every way
Stories told through misty gaze
In our hearts they'll always stay

Sons who never knew the truth
Lost in time like fading youth
But the past comes back around
In old letters newly found

In those eyes I see the past
Echoes of a love so vast
Every moment now revived
Through her vision
She's alive

Faded photos hand in hand
Hold the key to understand
Eyes that shone with quiet light
Now recalled both day and night

Gray eyes of yesterday
Gone but here in every way
Stories told through misty gaze
In our hearts they'll always stay
